General Information

California allows a $500 nonrefundable long-term care credit (per applicable individual) that can be used by eligible caregivers against the net tax.

The credit is not allowed to any eligible caregiver whose adjusted gross income for the taxable year is equal to or greater than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000).

Purpose

Use this form to claim a $500 credit for each applicable individual who is in need of long-term care and for whom the taxpayer is the eligible caregiver.

Note: This credit is not refundable.

Applicable Individual Requirements

An applicable individual is an individual who has been certified in writing by a physician before April 15, 2003, as someone who has long-term care needs that will last for at least 180 consecutive days, a portion of which occurs within the 2002 taxable year.

The applicable individual must have been certified by a physician within the 39½ month period that ended on April 15, 2003, that the individual is an applicable individual. The taxpayer shall retain the physician certification and shall make that certification available to the Franchise Tax Board upon request.

An applicable individual must fall within one of the following three categories:

1. The applicable individual is at least six years old and:
  - Is unable to perform at least three activities of daily living, due to a loss of functional capacity, without substantial assistance from another individual, or
  - Requires substantial supervision to protect that individual from threats to health and safety due to severe cognitive impairment and is unable to perform at least one activity of daily living. Activities of daily living include bathing, eating, continence, toileting, dressing, and transferring.
2. The applicable individual is at least two but less than six years old and is unable, due to loss of functional capacity, to perform at least two of the following activities without substantial assistance from another individual: eating, transferring, or mobility.

3. The applicable individual is under two years old and requires specific durable medical equipment because of a severe health condition, or requires a skilled practitioner trained to address the individual's condition to be available if the individual's parents or guardians are absent.

Eligible Caregiver Requirements

A taxpayer shall be treated as an "eligible caregiver" for any taxable year with respect to the following individuals:

- (a) The taxpayer;
- (b) The taxpayer's spouse;
- (c) A dependent of the taxpayer; or
- (d) An individual who meets the requirements to be the taxpayer's dependent except for the gross income limitation. In lieu of the normal gross income limitation, the individual's gross income for the taxable year must be less than the sum of the federal exemption amount ($3,000 for tax year 2002), plus the federal standard deduction amount ($4,700 for tax year 2002) (a total of $7,700), plus any additional federal standard deduction allowed for an individual who was aged 65 and/or blind at the close of the tax year. For tax year 2002, these amounts are $900 per exemption for a married individual and $1,150 per exemption for an unmarried individual who was not a surviving spouse.
- (e) An individual who meets the requirements to be the taxpayer's dependent based on paragraph (d) above except for the support test. In lieu of the taxpayer having provided more than half the support for the individual during the taxable year, the individual has as his or her principal place of abode the home of the taxpayer and (1) in the case of an individual who is an ancestor or descendent of the taxpayer or the taxpayer's spouse, is a member of the taxpayer's household for over half the taxable year, or (2) in the case of any other individual, is a member of the taxpayer's household for the entire taxable year.

Limitations

Only one caregiver can claim the Long-Term Care Credit for an applicable individual. If more than one person is an eligible caregiver for the same applicable individual, the taxpayer will be treated as the eligible caregiver if each person (other than the taxpayer) files a written declaration that that person will not claim the credit for the applicable individual.

If the persons who are required to file a written declaration do not do so, the person with the highest federal modified adjusted gross income shall be treated as the eligible caregiver. The federal modified adjusted gross income is computed the same way for the California Long-Term Care Credit as it is for the federal Earned Income Credit. To compute federal modified adjusted gross income, see the federal instructions for computing the Earned Income Credit.

In the case of married taxpayers who filed separate tax returns, if both claim the credit for an applicable individual, the taxpayer with the highest federal modified adjusted gross income shall be treated as the eligible caregiver.

The credit will not be allowed to a taxpayer for any applicable individual unless, on the tax return for that taxable year, the taxpayer includes the name and social security number of the applicable individual, and the certifying physician's medical license number.

There are no provisions to carry over any unused credit to succeeding taxable years, and in no event can this credit be carried back and applied against a prior year's tax.

This credit is not refundable.
